

Driessen Global Services

Driessen offers worldwide support through a global network of professionally staffed local service stations. Offering a flexible and responsive attitude, Driessen will satisfy your maintenance needs with short, thorough turn around times. Each contract is customized to meet the customer's individual requirements.

The availability and serviceable condition of air cargo and in-flight catering equipment play a supporting and decisive role in a flawless everyday operation. Damaged equipment can cause injuries and affect operational efficiency. Rather than own an excessive inventory of equipment with its unnecessary investment in storage, capital and organization, efficient quality maintenance and repair programs are the cost effective solution.

Driessen can provide repair and maintenance services for both Driessen products as well as for equipment manufactured by other suppliers without any limitation. Driessen maintains a positive relationship with other original equipment manufacturers.
